THE LUXURY ART

LUXURY FOR DAILY LIVING

2026

SINCE 1947

Since 1947, Mepra has stood as a symbol of Italian excellence in stainless steel cutlery, cookware, and tableware. Founded in Lumezzane, in the heart of the Brescia region, the company was the first to produce flatware in the area. Established by the Prandelli family, Mepra transformed a deep passion for metalworking into a refined art form that continues to define its legacy today.

Over the decades, Mepra has combined traditional craftsmanship with continuous innovation, creating iconic collections that embody Italian style and design.

Every piece is the result of careful research, skilled hands, and a vision that connects heritage with modern living.

Today, Mepra is present in the most prestigious hotels, restaurants, and homes around the world, bringing timeless beauty and uncompromising quality to every table.

THE PLANET

Lifetime Products

Our products are built to last, reducing waste and avoiding disposable culture. Choosing Mepra means investing in quality and sustainability.

Energy & CO₂ Reduction

Our photovoltaic plant generates over 160,000 kWh each year, cutting CO₂ emissions by 84,000 kg. In winter, a cogeneration system produces both heat and electricity, resulting in significant energy savings.

Recycling & Waste Management

The majority of our steel comes from recycled sources. All production waste is collected and reintroduced into the supply chain to create new raw material.

Water Conservation

Since the early 1990s, our filtration system has allowed us to recover and reuse washing water and detergents, with no discharge into the sewage system.

Air & Substances

As early as the 1980s, we replaced polluting chlorinated solvents with water-based solutions and upgraded polishing machinery with dust-suction systems to protect the air we breathe.

HISTORY

The three Prandelli brothers, Bortolo, Francesco and Giovanbattista, built the first factory in 1901, directly beside the river in Lumezzane, Italy. This allowed them to run machinery by use of a water mill.

They worked metals as subcontractors and as primary manufacturers during the 30s and World War II. After the war, it was necessary to reconvert their production and the three sons of Giovanbattista founded Mepra in 1947. Mepra stands for "Metallurgica Prandelli" and its founders were the three brothers Pietro, Felice and Giacomo. They built a new and modernized plant in the upper side of the valley to produce aluminum and brass flatware. These raw materials were available in great quantities after the war. Each of the three brothers was responsible for a different function: Giacomo for the production, Felice for the sales, and Pietro, who was previously a school teacher, for accounting. In 1950, the Prandelli brothers decided to convert the production to 18/10 stainless steel.

This move was highly successful. In the following twenty years, the company grew continuously and extended the range to include holloware and kitchenware. Later, Mepra also began producing silverplated flatware and holloware.

In 1972, Gianni, the son of Pietro, joined the family business. At the beginning, he was responsible for production, together with uncle Giacomo. In the following years, he became the main conduit between production and sales. He became CEO in 1977 and President in 1999. In 1985, Luigi, the son of Felice, joined the company. He was responsible for Marketing and Accounting, and then became CEO. He has also created numerous new successful products and collections.

The 80s were years of great growth for Mepra. For the new collections, stainless steel became combined with new materials such as plastic, glass, wood and porcelain. The sale results were so good that, in 1992, Mepra decided to open a new plant dedicated solely to the production of plastic.

In the 90s, in order to respond to the most refined customers' needs, Mepra developed a network of cooperation with some of the most influential designers including Angelo Mangiarotti and a host of other young talented avant-garde designers who still work for the company full-time or on a project basis.

Research and Development costs represent about 8% of the turnover – one of the highest ratios in the industry. This investment spawns creativity, design and utmost quality in everything Mepra does. From the quality of the raw materials, to the thickness to the flawless finishing these are all signatures of Mepra.

In 2004, the fourth-generation Prandelli joined the family business. Since his early years, Luca, Gianni's son, actively worked on expanding Mepra's international business and exposure. Thanks to his previous working experience in the United States, Luca has been developing the North American market and continues to build a brand that, thanks to its presence in the best independent retailers and department stores in the USA, symbolizes Italian tradition, design, lifestyle and "Made in Italy".

«Voi mi chiedete che cosa significhi stile italiano. Significa accordo di linee e senso della proporzione, semplicità e armonia di linee, sicché quando è trascorso un tempo considerevole si può ancora notare qualcosa che risulta più vivo del ricordo della bellezza».

Battista "Pinin" Farina

«You ask me what Italian style means. It means sense of proportion, simplicity and harmony of line, such that after a considerable time, there is still something which is more alive than just a memory of beauty».

Battista "Pinin" Farina.

TABLE GRILL

Every chef knows that the perfect temperature is essential for enhancing flavors. We engineered a Table Grill to deliver precise, customizable cooking at the table, optimizing heat retention and presentation through specialized materials to enhance meat's organoleptic qualities. Available in various sizes, the Table Grill is designed to accommodate both individual dining and shared dishes, making it a versatile choice for any occasion.

Included natural lava stones ensure optimal heat retention for consistent cooking, enhancing each ingredient's flavor for a rich sensory experience.

The table grill can be used also in combination with liquid nitrogen instead of the lava stones. The incorporation of liquid nitrogen alongside specific ingredients can result in visually striking fish presentations. The theatrical effect created by the billowing clouds of vapor when liquid nitrogen interacts with the atmosphere adds an engaging element to the dining experience, leaving guests delighted and the dish memorable. The table grill can be used also to smoke the meat with different type of material such as lava stones, embers or straws.

This unique grill allows meat to be served directly at the table, maintaining the organoleptic qualities (=being, affecting, or relating to qualities such as taste, color, odor, and feel of a substance such as a food or drink that stimulate the sense organs.). Through meticulous design, including the optimization of holes and the placement of lava stones, our Table Grill creates the perfect atmosphere to preserve the meat's quality and temperature from the grill to the guest's plate.
